

ESCAPES DEATH IN LONG FALL

Mill Worker Tumbles Seven Stories to Platform; Injuries Not Serious

Falling from the scaffold upon which he was working, Isadore Katz, 26 years old, dashed against the cement loading platform, seven stories below.

Fellow workers rushed to the scene thinking to find Katz horribly crushed. He was unconscious and there was a sizeable lump on his head.

Dr. Clyde Smith was immediately summoned. Shortly after his arrival Katz regained consciousness. Examination showed that he had suffered no broken bones and no external injuries other than the lump on his head.

Katz was removed to the hospital where he is under the care of Dr. Smith. The man was considerably bruised by his fall and there are possibilities that he has been injured internally. It is reported.

A report from the hospital indicates that his condition is good. Workers at the mill say that Katz' escape from death was miraculous. In view of the fact that he fell, unimpeded, for a distance of more than 125 feet.

Traffic Cop Kills Dog With His Hands

Seven dogs have been killed within the last few days by members of the police department. Six of the animals were thought to be rabid.

One animal was accidentally killed this morning at Twenty-third street and Adams avenue. It had apparently been struck by an automobile and its back broken.

Traffic Officer J. M. Hawkins is credited with having killed a mad dog early this week with his hands. He was at his post at Twenty-fourth street and Washington avenue. A large dog came running down Twenty-fourth street and snapped at several pedestrians as it passed them.

It chased a boy on a bicycle and succeeded in tearing the leg of his trousers. Officer Hawkins seized the animal as it was about to spring at a small girl. He held it to the pavement by its neck and dispatched it with his "black jack."

The animal was killed before its teeth had inflicted any damage other than tears to clothes. It is reported at the police station that the number of apparently mad dogs in Ogden is unusual for this time in the year.
